Foreword

This has truly been a year of joy, of excitement, of happiness, and of work—A TIME TO REMEMBER! In planning your 1962 TIGER TALES I have tried to portray the high points of the past school year—the football games, the Junior-Senior Banquet, and the seemingly unimportant everyday events—which have played such a very important part in our lives.

I would like to thank our sponsor and co-operative staff, who have contributed their time and hard work.

It has been a great pleasure to serve as your editor. For you to get as much happiness from these pages as I have from compiling them is my ultimate goal.

Your editor,

PAT MILLER

Dedication

MR. W. W. ALFRED

For his interest in each of us and in whatever we do;
For his loyalty to high standards of living, patriotism and duty;
For his devotion to Lancaster High School, and the present and future welfare of its students.
For his sharing a sense of humor with us;
For his insistence that we maintain high academic standards and that we look toward our own futures and the futures of our community and nation, and that we, in Lancaster High School, help meet this challenge of the '60's.
For what he is, and for what he helps us to be,
We, the staff, proudly dedicate our 1962 Tiger Tales, to our principal, MR. W. W. ALFRED, who has taught us citizenship, respect, and honor in addition to being our friend.

SCHOOL BOARD

MRS. MICKEY McDANIEL
Secretary to the Superintendent

MR. J. E. DAWSON
Superintendent of Schools

TO THE CLASS OF 1962:

We hear much of the "Challenge of the '60's" . . . yet in reality it is the same challenge which has faced every generation as it comes of age in our beloved country.

It is the challenge to establish a home, to render service to community and nation, to be able to care for one's own financial needs, and to make home, community, and nation better because you have been there. Yet in the challenge of the '60's comes a need for reinforcement of one of the oldest principles of American living—the resurgence of the individual's feeling of responsibility in every area of life.

It is my sincere hope that your years in Lancaster High School have helped provide you with an understanding of your need—and our country's need—for your living as a responsible individual; and that you do your part, to the fullest of your ability, to see that this nation and the principles which have, under God, made it great, do not perish from the earth.

Sincerely,

J. Elvin Dawson

MR. W. W. ALFRED
Principal, Lancaster High School

We of Lancaster High School are concerned with Education as it affects our rights and privileges, our duties and responsibilities. As students and citizens of a Democracy, it is important that we be able to distinguish between these rights, and equip ourselves to be able to cope with problems affecting our future.

To the class graduated I wish for them success now and in later years. To those of you who still have years to spend in Lancaster High School, it is time for you to take inventory. Have you received fully what has been offered? Have you offered anything of value to your fellow students?

To the faculty and student body I say "thank you" for your cooperation and untiring effort that has made this school year a most productive and enjoyable one.

May the desire for knowledge and truth be with you always. May God bless and keep us one and all.

Sincerely,

W. W. Alfred

Finley seeks help.

MISS ELSIE ROBERTSON
Counselor

TO THE CLASS OF 1962:

As you go from the halls of Lancaster High into wider areas of business, education, and living, it is my earnest wish that you understand that as others have contributed material help to you, have provided opportunities, shared experiences, and attempted to open wider doors to your vision, you in turn will have opportunity and responsibility for doing the same for those with whom you come into contact.

As you work and live for good will, peace, and understanding, your life and work will merge with those before you who have stood for Right and Good.

With our great pride in you is mingled a hope that in some tangible way LHS has contributed materially to your determination to live constructively not only for yourself, but for others, and for God and our country. When you recall days in LHS, bear in mind that "Her children suffer no defeat" . . . and that it is sung for you too, wherever you are.

Sincerely,

Elsie Robertson

Senior Day

Crowded buses which took seniors to Austin's Patio.

The pool is deserted for the evening meal.

Everyone spent some time at the pool . . .

Class sponsors Mrs. Brownlee, Mrs. Broadway, and Mrs. Holcomb enjoyed the trip.

. . . and in the paddle boats.

A Day at Junior High

A teacher's day begins early.

Students hard at work.

There is always room for dessert.

Settled and eating.

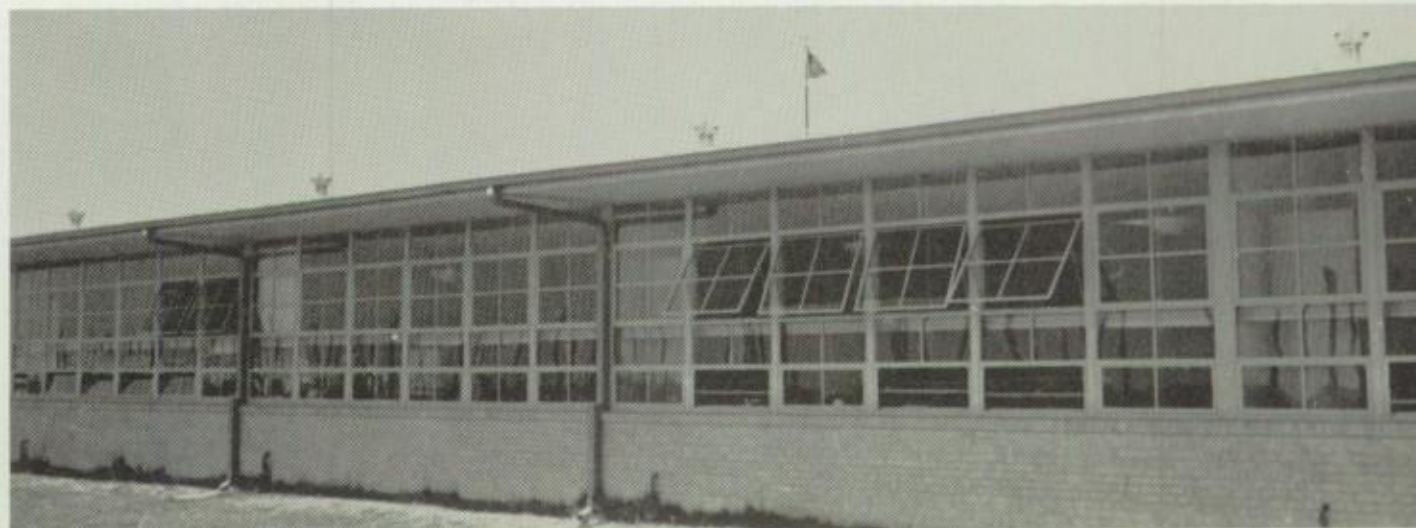

It is time for exercise and

... relaxation.

Pride of Jr. High

All is quiet at 3:30.

A Day at Grade School

Everyone has arrived.

Quiet and hard at work.

Hmm! Sure looks good.

What a busy lunchroom

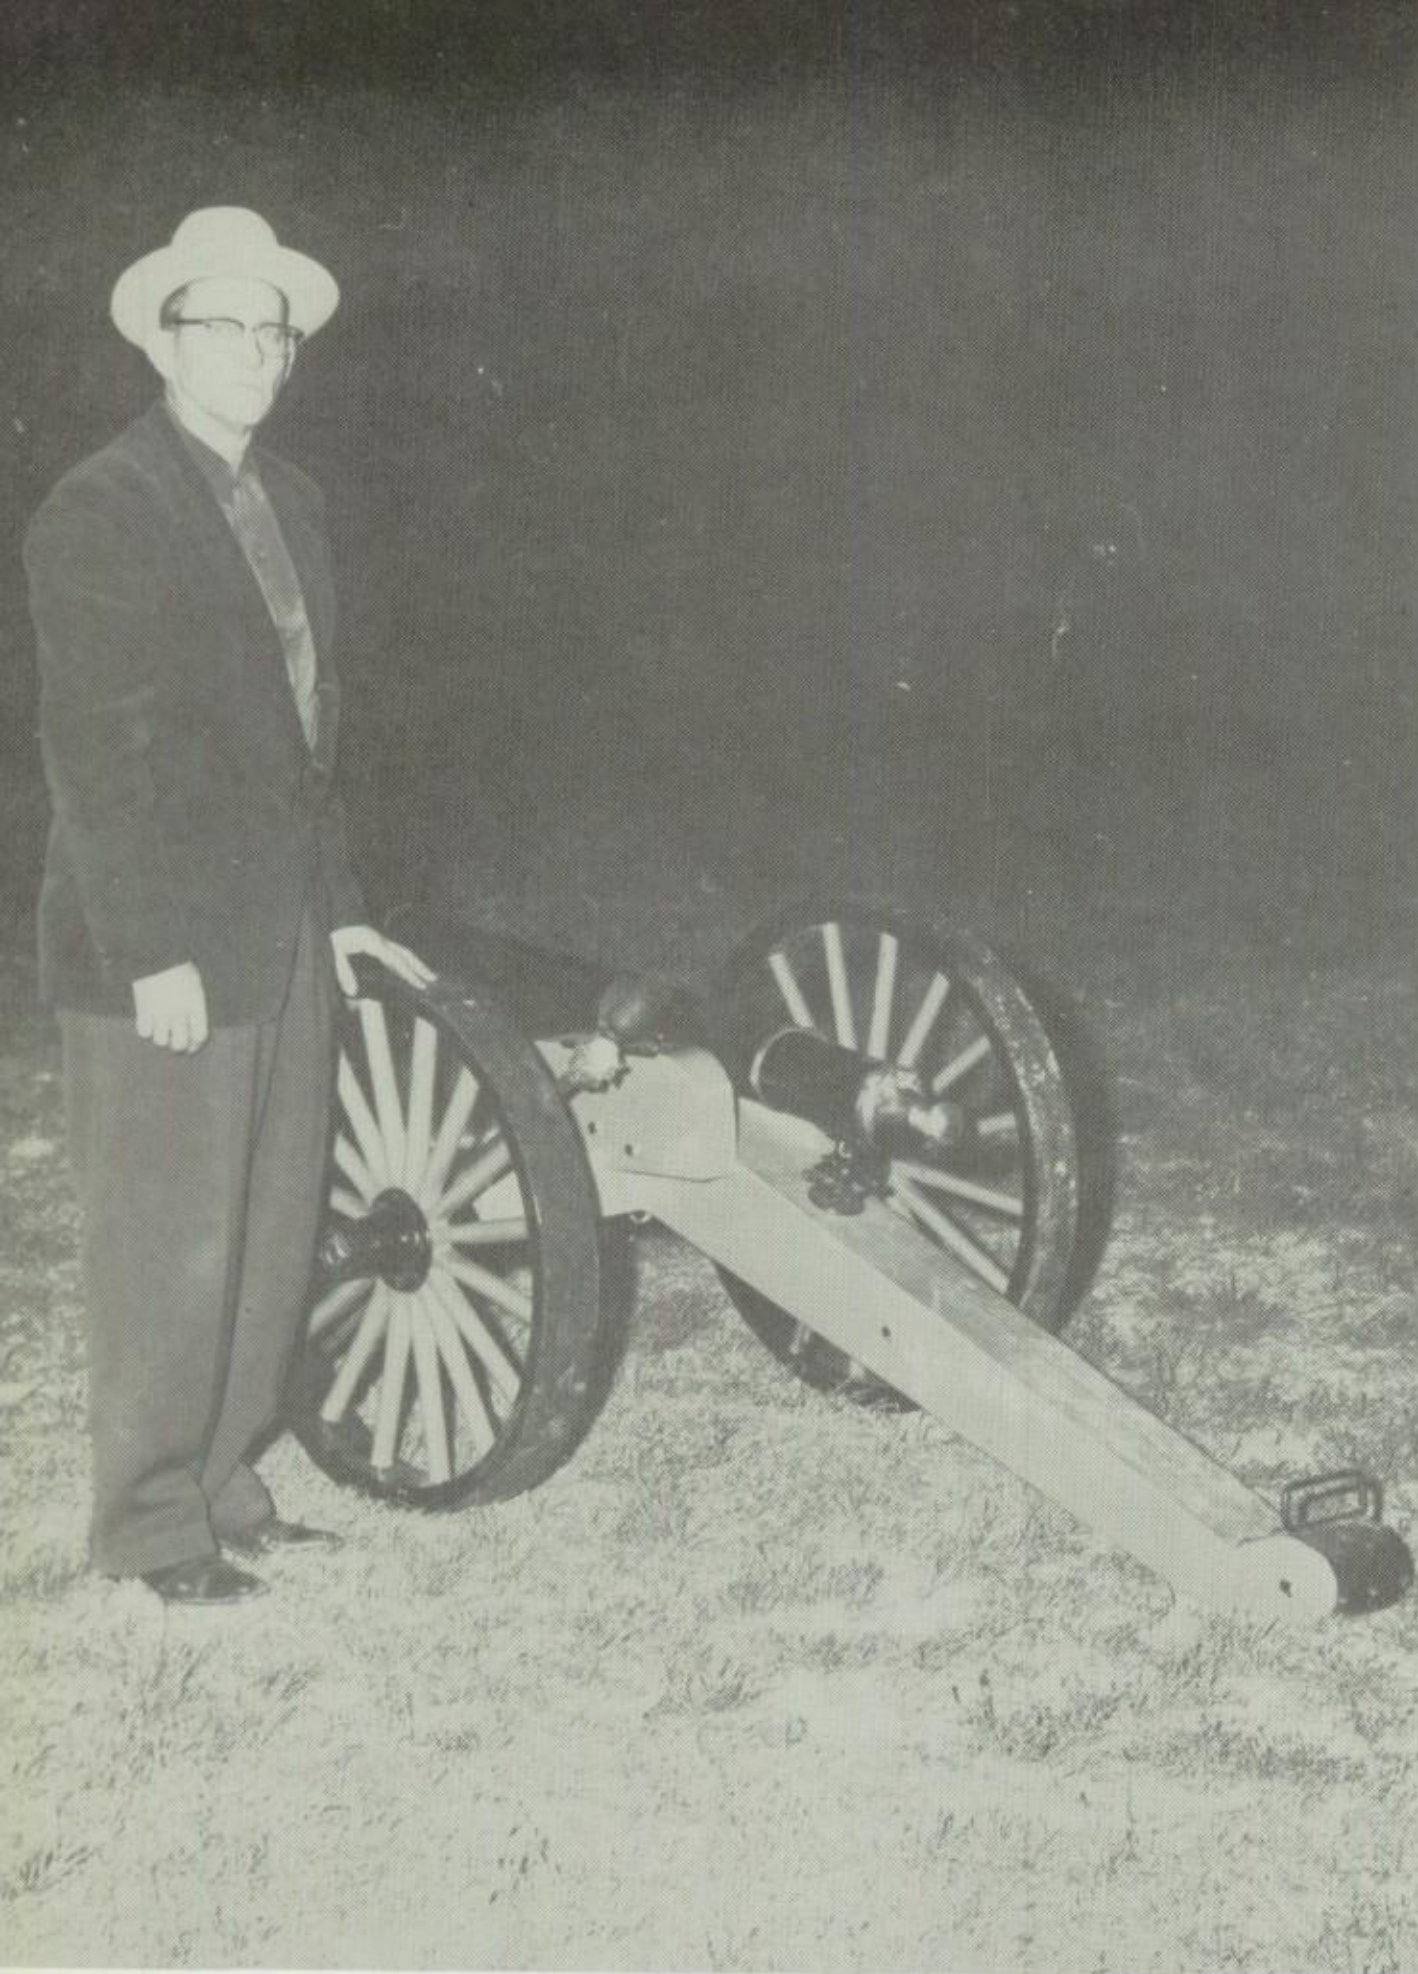

Teachers enjoy lunch and relaxation.

It's play time at West Main.

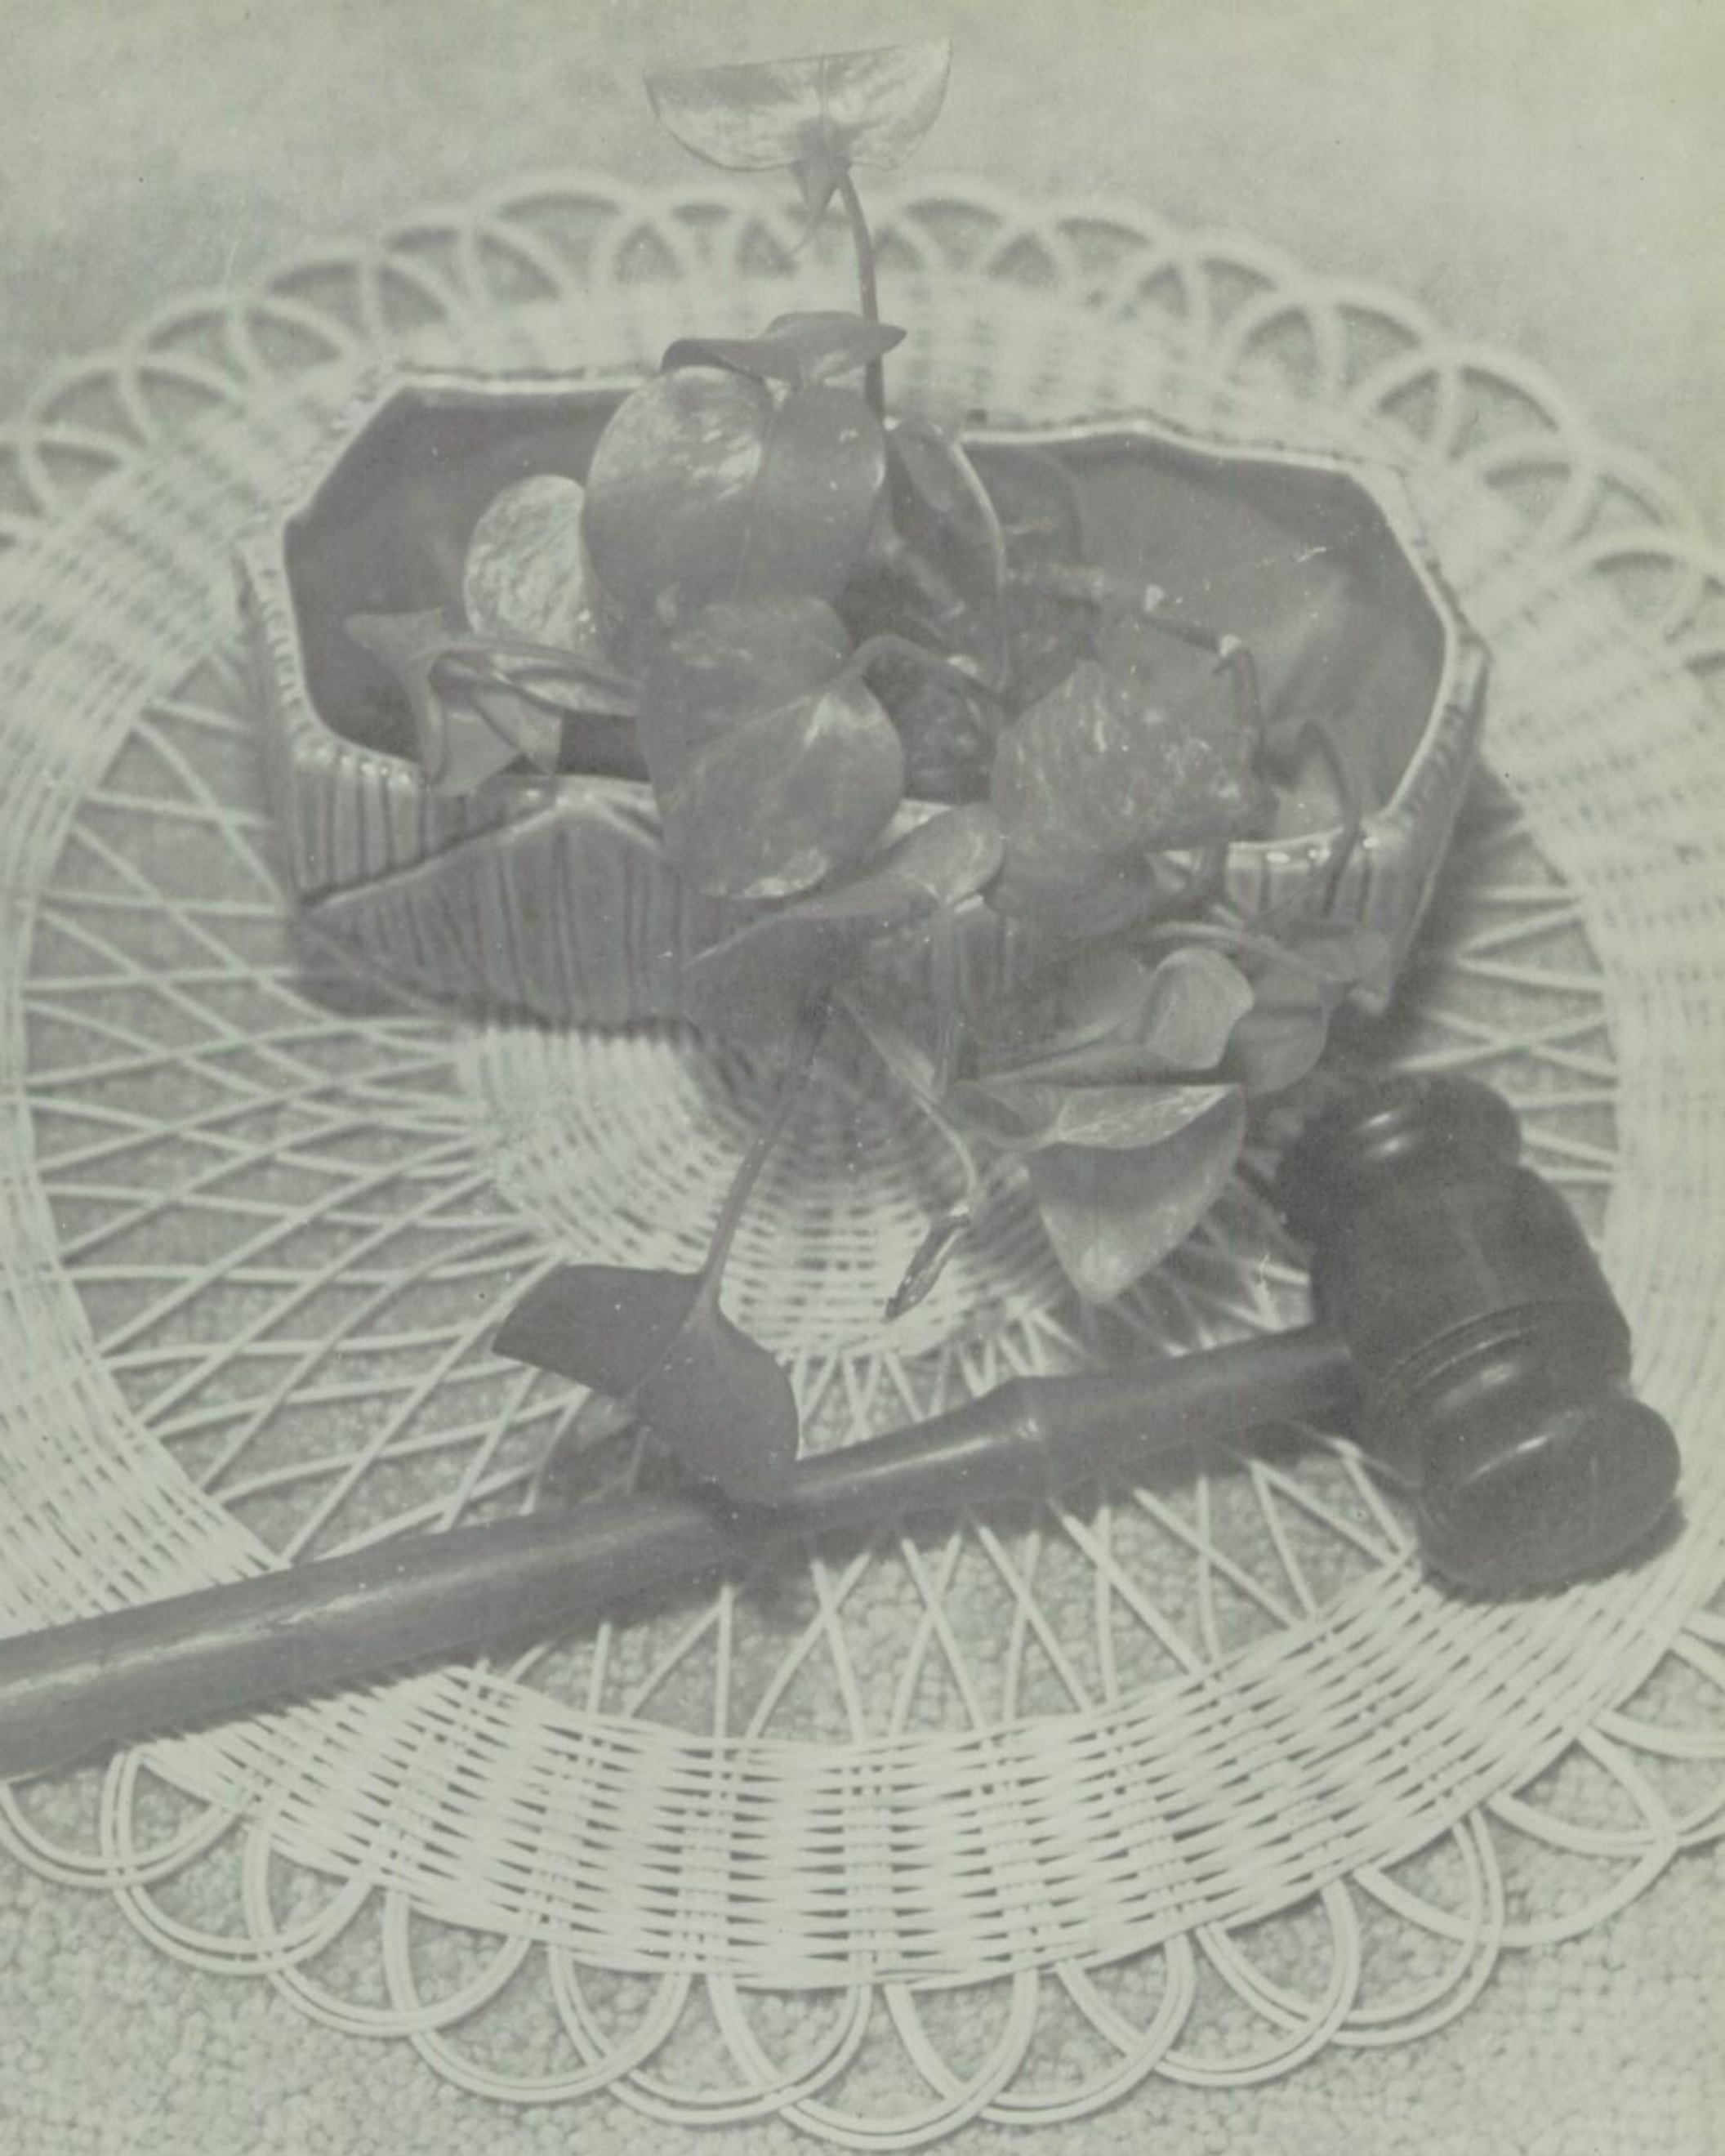

The halls are silent after a long day.

Mr. Brockinton honored L.H.S. with a victory cannon he made himself.

Lancaster Cross-Country teams participated in meets at Lancaster, Duncanville, Kimball, Jesuit, and the State meet.

The Tigers won the meets on their home course and at Duncanville, and placed second in the Kimball meet. Bad luck, however, hit them after that. Through the first lap of the State meet it looked as if Lancaster would win the meet; but then two of the Tigers' top runners fell out of the race and Lancaster finished in sixth place. Despite this, it was the best year Lancaster has ever had in cross-country.

Our Town

Give all a town in which to dwell
One like our very own:
A town of beautiful houses—
And every house a home;
A town of fine churches and schools
Where streets are safe and wide;
A town where cleanliness is found,
One that has civic pride;
A town of many stalwart trees
Providing restful shade;
A town with a friendly Main Street
Where fine friendships are made;
A town that's one big neighborhood
Where brotherhood is shown.

A town like this is near our hearts:
Give us each one our own.
